

AMAC 2022 Programme

AMAC 2022 will bring together our AM Community and leaders across SingHealth Duke-NUS AMC to examine and reflect on the latest developments and challenges in academic health systems as they engage with internationally renowned academic clinicians to shape the way forward and emerge stronger as an AMC. This four-day hybrid event will also see the return of the highly successful Academic Hour with AMAC which will feature a series of keynote and plenary lectures by prominent world-class thought leaders, centred on the current hot topics in academic medicine.
