

RESEARCH

@ SINGHEALTH DUKE-NUS ACADEMIC MEDICAL CENTRE

SingHealth Institutional Animal Care & Use Committee (IACUC)

What do they do?

- Oversee the care and use of animals for research laboratory and scientific purposes at the AMC
- Ensure research complies with the National Advisory Committee for Laboratory Animal Research (NACLAR) Guidelines

Who would need to seek their guidance?

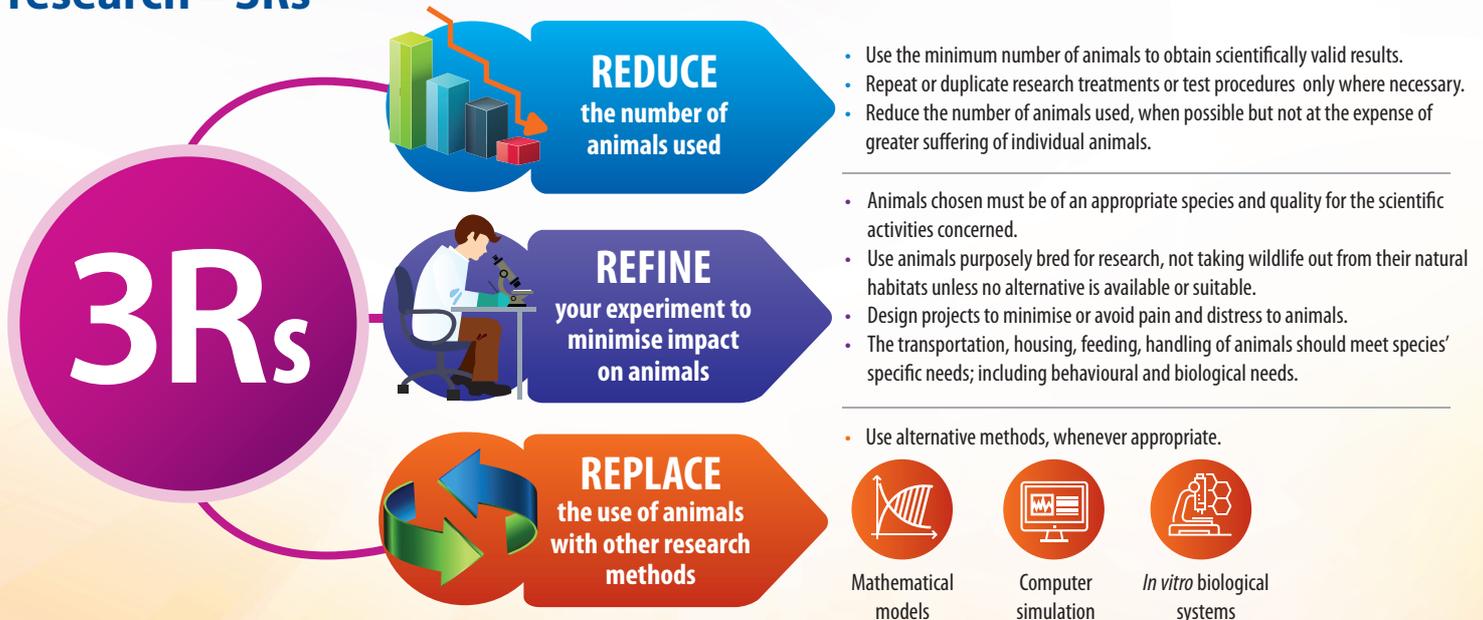

- Investigators/staff who use animals in research projects or for other scientific and laboratory activities, including training courses

Why is their work important?

- Safeguards the humane and responsible care and use of animals by adhering to regulations and ethical guidelines
- Ensures that research objectives are met without compromising the well-being of animals

Guiding principles for the care and use of animals in scientific research – 3Rs

Information correct at time of production (August 2016)