

Resilience

By Ying Pin, Toh

I am ropes of steel woven to make strong
Threads of faith from those who believe in me
(when I don't believe)
Kindness and care at 2 am
Mitigates my toxic call luck
And the giants who come along
To walk beside me in my journey
Holding my hand and showing the way
A quiet word gives strength to reach a little further
"Working mums can do anything!"
Peers dragging me along when I feel like giving up
Kindness is fuel to keep on keeping on
